VELOUTÉ KID GLOYES.

Never before has there appeared such a novelty in Men's Gloves as the new VELOUTE.

They are made from the best quality of real kid, and by a newly-discovered process the surface is converted into actual velvet, quite unlike the usual glace or glossy surface of kid leather. It is from this peculiarity that they are called "VELOUTE."

These Gloves are suitable for Dress, Walking and Business purposes, and are sold by

I am not guilty of the charge set forth in the indictment. It was God's act, hot mine, and God will take care of it; and don't let the American people forget. He will take care of it, and every officer of the Government, from the Executive down to that marshal, taking in every man on that jury and every momber of this bench, will pay for it, and the American Nation will roll in blood if my budy goes into the ground and I am hung. You have been convicted of a crime so terrible in its circumstances and so far-reaching that it has haven upon you the borror of the whole world You have been counted by the control of the whole world and the executations of your countrymen. The excitement produced by such an offense made it no easy task for you to secure a fair and impartial trial; but you have had the power of the United States Treasury and the Government in your service to produce your person from violence and to procure evidence from all parts of the country. You have had as fair and impartial a jury as ever assembled in a court of justice. You have been with a Zeal and Devotion that merits the highest encominm, and I certainly that merits the highest encominm, and I certainly

WITH A ZEAL AND DEVOTION that merits the highest encomium, and I certainly have done my best to secure a fair presentation of your detense. Notwithstatiding all this you have been found guity. It would have been a comfort to many people if the verdict of the jury had established the fact that your act was that of an irresponsible man. It would have left the people the satisfying belief that the erime of political assessination was something entirely foreign to the institutions and civilization of our country, but the result has denied them that comfort. The country will lacepit it as a fact that that crime ear be committed and the court will have to deal with it with the bighest penalty known to the criminal cide to serve as an example to others. Your It with the bighest pennity known to the criminal rode to serve as an example to others. Your career has been so extraordinary that people night well at times have deabled your sanity. And that you had moral sense and conscience chough to recognize the moral iniquity of such an act.

The Prisoner—That's a matter of opinion. Your own testimony shows in the you recolled with horror from the idea. You say that you prayed against it. You say that you thought it might be prevented. This shows that your conscience warned you against it, but by the wretched sophistry of your own mind you worked yourself up against the protest of your own conscience. What motive could have induced you to this act must be a matter of conjecture. Probably men will think that some political fanancism or a morbid desire for self-exaltation was the real.

Your own testimony seems to controver the theories of your counsel. They have maintained and thought houselly, I believe, that you were driven against your will by an insane impulse to comfit the act, but your testimony showed that you deliberately resolved to do it, and that a deliberate and misguided will was the sole impulse. This may seem insanity to some persons, but the law looks upon it as a willful crime. You will have due opiortunity of having any errors I may have committed during the course of the trial passed upon by the Court in Bane; but in the meantime it is necessary for me to pronounce the sentence of the law, that you be taken hence to the common sail of the District, from whose you came, and there be kept in confinement, and on Friday, the 30th day of June, 182, you be taken to the place of execution within the walls of said jail, and there, between the hours of tweive m and two p. m., you shall be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have merey on your soul. I stand here as God's man, and God Almighty will curse every man who has had a part in procuring this unrighteous verdict. Nothing but good has come from Garfield's removal, and that will be the verdict of posterity on my inspiration. I don't care a snap for the verdict of this corrupt generation. SPIRITUALISM.

Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond at Tallmadge Mall.

Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, the renowned trance speaker of Chicago, addressed a large audience at Tallmadge Hall hat night. Notwithstanding the fact that a small admission fee was charged to de-fray expenses there was not a vacant chair in the iray exponses there was not a vacant chair in the auditorium, and it was a refued and intellectual audience that greeted the lecturer's eye as she stepped upon the platform. Mrs. Richmond announced that she would speak on any subject chosen by her auditors, and accordingly "Spiritualism" was suggested to her. With wonderful grace of expression and power of language the speaker described the spirit life as revealed to her in her trance-like condition. Without hesitation or pause the words flowed from her lips conveying thoughts clothed in poetical garb, and painting in vivid and striking colors a nuture state sublime and cheering to contemplate. Mrs. Reinmond believes that after this life our spirits inhabit this earth and live and have their being near those they love. While speaking Mrs. Richmond is entirely unconscious of what she is saying and has no knowledge of either her subject or how she has been speaking. At the close of the address she answered several questions propounded to her by the audieuce, and in a manner that called forth frequent applause. The word "charity" was then proposed as the subject for a poem, and in motrical language that divine virtue was elaborately extolled. Mrs. Richmond will lecture again at Tallmadge Hall next Sunday.

The Churches Yesterday. The attendance at the churches yesterday was affected by the miscrable condition of the streets. But still there were very good congregations, and the exercises were, as usual, varied and interest-ing. At the Ninth Street Presbyterian Church ing. At the Ninth Street Presbyterian Church Rev. Joseph T. Kelly presched an able discourse on "The Unpardonable Sin." The Mizpah Band held a meeting in the afternoon at the chapel of the Y. M. C. A., which was conducted by Mr. George Wheeler. The Sunday-school Gospel Temperance Society of the Fourth Street M. E. Church held their monthly meeting, which was addressed by H. B. Moulton and others. At the Wesley Chaptel Mrs. Hannah W. Smith delivered an address in the evening. Rev. C. Herbert Richardson, the pastor of McKendrec Church, delivered a discourse upon "Living Sacrifices." At the Ascension Church an interesting meeting was held in the afternoon for the deaf mittes. Professor Gordon acted as interpreter. Rev. Dr. Harrison, at Mount Vernon Church, delivered an interesting discourse on "The Last Days of Prophecy." Mrs. Hannah W. Smith, of Philadelphia, spake at Hamiline Church in the morning on "The Secret of a Happy Life." at 8. Paul's Lutheran Church to pastor, Rev. Capital Theatre.

The new Capital Theatre has leaped at once into popular favor, and its success as a permanent institution is already assured. This week its attracstitution is already assured. This week its attractions will consist of Harry L. Clair, W. J. Russell, Alf. McDowell, the Melrose sisters, Leopoid and Wentwerth, Professor White and his performing dogs, Salior West, Charles Gardner, Neille Carlyn, Lawrence and Baldwin, the trio, Ida, George, and Virginia Turner, and Weish and Harris, Such an array of talent cannot fall to attract large audiences, and in addition Jake Budd will appear in "Bill Jones' Cousin."

Washington Order of Elks. The installation of the Washington Lodge of the Order of Elks, No. 15, took place last night. Mr. Frank Girard, of Philadelphis, came here to attend to the organization. About twenty members each from Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New can from Battmore, Philadelpaia, and New York, and representatives from Boston and other blaces were also in attendance. The Washington Lodge starts in with forty charter members. The Order of Elka is a dramatic benefit association composed of some of the leading members of the profession in the country.

Singe-Struck.

The Washington dramatic correspondent of the Spirit of the Times says in his last letter: "Professor Philip Lawrence comes the 30th to organize a struck persons in this as well as all other cities, but it is hardly fair to assume that that class only will paironize Professor Lawrence. Blocution, like music, is an accomplishment, and many persons who have no intention or desire to gourson the stage find in it a pleasant recreation, and in fact all persons may improve the voice by its practice. A few lessons by a competent teacher will enable any one to cuffivate the voice so that it may be soft, musical, and pleasing in ordinary conversation, whereas without the knowledge thus acquired harsh and discordant voices may exist. Professor Lawrence is an authority on elecation and acting, probably the best who has ever offered his services to this community, and those requiring voice-culture will find it to their interest to consult him, "stage-struck" or otherwise.

St. Elizabeth Opera-House Theatricals An extremely enjoyable entertainment was af-forded the inmates of the Government Insane Asylum on Friday night last by an excellent ama-teur dramatic company, under the management of Mr. Louis J. Harbaugh, of this city. The programme consisted of artistic vocalizations, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kearney and R. E. Stevens; amusing recitations, by Mr. Ed. Mullin, and a side-splitting negro sketch, by Mr. J. B. Callahan, assisted by Harry Fitz Donoho, Mr. Callahan's funny songs and dances and Mr. Donoho's excellent bellad renditions were unquestionably the rems of the first part. A convilsive farce suitiled "In the Wrong House: or, No. 6 Duke Street," concluded the performance, and was very meritoriously given by a well selected cast, comprising Mr. Harbaugh in the leading role of Themsisocies Judd (an author with an iden), Messrs, Mullin, Saxton, and Gulahaer, and the Missee Bennett and Saxton. The large audience of "crants" evinced intense interest throughout the entire performance, and much credit is due Mr. Harbaugh for the superior bill presented. side-splitting negro sketch, by Mr. J. Asthetic Opera.

The attraction at Ford's Opera-Rouse this week will be Gilbert and Sullivan's asthetic opera of "Patience; or, the Lily and the Sunflower." A new interest attaches to this opera now since the visit of the spostle of mitheticism, Mr. O'Wilde, and the fact that it will be presented by a company whose fact that it will be presented by a company whose experience in its performance fully fit it to bring out all the delicate satire of the libreito and the beauties of the pleasing music will insure the attention of our music-loving public. The periocipals of the troupe are Messrs. George Denham, Fitzgorald, Lang, and Curley, Misses Lacette, May Stembler, and Melleury, and the chorus is composed largely of members of various church choirs, which indicates that the voices are fresh and unworn. Special attention will be given to the costumes and appointments of the opera, and the presentation of "Patience" will be an important event in the history of comic opera here.

be an event which will bring forth not only the large number of personal friends of this estimable lady and accomplished vocalist, but also all lovers of eved music, for the list of those who will assist includes Miss Minnie Pwan, who, though advertised as from New York, needs no metropolitan residence to raily her friends in this city; Mrs. Kaspar, Mrs. Charles Kaiser of Baltimore, Mr. Warren Young, Miss McGrow, Professor William Waldecker, and Dr. J. The prisoner was on hand and took his place in the dock on Saturday morning evidently not expecting what was in store for him. After Judge Cox had opened the court, which was not crowded, in consequence of the weather, Mr. Scoville at-tempted to postpone the consideration of Judge Cox's decision on the motion for a new trial. Colonel Corkhill objected, and the Judge com-menced by reading from various authorities bearing on the case. He discussed at some length the circumstances attending the finding of the news-paper in the room of one of the bailiffs of the jury in the case. First as to the handwriting: There are several circumstances that make it improbable that at least two of the names upon the margin of the paper were written by the gentlemen them-selves.
